

Biography

Dr. B.R. Das, Ph.D,
President,
Molecular Pathology Association of India (MPAI),
Mumbai, Maharashtra.

Dr. B.R. Das is a healthcare leader with more than 33 years of experience in Molecular Medicine. Apart from being the President of the Molecular Pathology Association of India (MPAI), he also serves as a member of International Affairs Committee (IAC) of Association of Molecular Pathology (AMP), USA for India and is also an Expert member in the Molecular Pathology Committee of the Association of Indian Pathologist of North America (AIPNA).

Dr. Das has an extensive experience both in Academia and Industry. He acts as Scientific Advisory Committee Member, Visiting Professor and Research Guide at several reputed institutes of India. He has been a Visiting Professor in Case Western Reserve University Hospital, Cleveland, USA, and Kyoto Medical School, Japan.

With more than 100 research papers to his credit, published in peer reviewed international journals, Dr. Das has mentored several Ph.D. and post-doctoral scientists to complete their clinical research work. His research work has been highly acclaimed in India and abroad for which he has been honoured with several prestigious awards such as the Best Young Scientist Award conferred by Indian National Science Academy (INSA), Indian Science Congress Association's (ISCA) Young Scientist Award, MP Young Scientist Award, KI Memorial Award for Promotion of Medical Research in Japan, Samantha Chandrasekhar Award from Orissa Bigyan Academy, Technology Achievement Award by EET CRS, to name a few. In 2017, Dr. Das was conferred the 100 Most Impactful Healthcare Leaders Award listed globally.